Camp-Specific Schedules & Information

Music Technology & Music Business Camp Details

1. During the camp week, campers share/email the projects using our Dropbox folder or Google drives. Also each camper will be using the same computer all week. They usually send files to themselves throughout the week as they work on them and before they leave. Most campers save it to their Google drive many times throughout the week as they move between the computer labs and the recording studio. Not having their files is not an issue.
2. Campers will complete both individual projects and group projects. By the end of the week usually everyone works in groups as that's the most fun when campers with various talents collaborate with each other. This is fluid throughout the week though as people make friends, collaborate, etc. Some people work better alone or in pairs, and some people work with 5 other campers. It depends on their level of comfort and what they project needs. If someone needs a singer on their track we pair them with a singer. If they want drums or bass on their song, that's what we record with them as a group. If they don't need anything they might work on their own most of the time and they have a chance to play their music in front of the group to receive feedback and support for improvement, etc. Some campers work in 4 different groups because everyone wants them to sing/play on their track. It's very flexible. Campers have a blast together in the recording studio!
3. Campers will have at least one project done by the end of the week that could be presented in their college application. The Music Technology & Music Business Camp is not a bootcamp to prep for a college application. The Rowan Community Music School offers one on one private lessons in music technology virtual and in person. They also offer a Digital Audio Workspace \(DAW\) in person class in the fall semester. These options are a quality outlet to best prepare for college applications and portfolios. Campers will know enough content after camp to be able to work by themselves and expand the amount of material they have for their college applications. The college application should represent what individuals complete and accomplish on their own.

Rowan Summer Music Camper Alumni Testimonial

"I participated in the vocal camp for 2 summers and I absolutely loved my time spent at camp! I loved getting a sense of the campus but especially getting to know the faculty. It made my transition to Rowan a whole lot easier. I would highly recommend this camp to any student who loves music and is thinking about pursuing music as a career. The camp is a wonderful mix of making music and having a whole lot of fun! I truly thank Rowan staff and faculty for helping contribute to my musical journey. Go Profs!"

Domenica R.

Current Rowan Student
Major: Music, BA
Instruments: Cello, Bassoon

Rowan Summer Music Camper Alumni Testimonial

"I attended many music camps in the past, but the one that kept drawing me back was the Rowan Summer Music Camps. The friends I made and my experience made me want to continue music past high school, and gave me more interest in making quality music with high level musicians. RU music camp also showed many ways for people to remain involved in music throughout their lives, despite not pursuing a music career. I am a Mechanical Engineer, but at Rowan I still play in multiple ensembles."

Evan B.

Current Rowan Student
Major: Mechanical Engineering B.S.
Instrument: French Horn

Rowan Summer Music Camper Alumni Testimonial

"My favorite part of camp was getting to work with so many amazing and talented people. My biggest take away from camp would be the overall musical experience we were given. Working towards the final performance gave us tons of practice time, and really helped me establish a new work ethic when it comes to learning music. Everyone was so passionate about the repertoire it really opened my eyes to another level of music making that was more about storytelling and not just notes and rhythms.

Hope F.

Current Rowan Student
Major: Music Education, BM
Primary: Voice

Rowan Summer Music Camper Alumni Testimonial

"As a former camper and counselor, I would absolutely recommend Rowan Summer Music Camps for anyone with a passion for making music. Band camp made me want to become a music education major as I was able to surround myself with like-minded musicians and improve skills on my instrument. Working with the music faculty gave me confidence and inspired me to be the best tuba player I can possibly be. My favorite part was always the music we performed because I felt challenged as a musician and tuba player (and I still have the recordings in my playlists to this day!). Also, it was awesome seeing friends I met at camp going Rowan with me as music majors! I now teach middle school band in the South Jersey area, and the path that got me here all started with Rowan Summer Music Camps."

Kelly H.

Former Rowan Student
Major: Music Education, BM
Primary: Tuba

Rowan Summer Music Camper Alumni Testimonial

"I am a freshman here at Rowan University studying Music Education and Special Education. In high school, I was able to participate in the Rowan University Band Camp 3 years in a row. It was one of the most amazing experiences I could have had. My favorite part of the whole experience was being able to make long time friends who I still keep in touch with now, playing pieces that were new and fun to me and working with Rowan's faculty. My biggest take away from camp was a greater appreciation for music and how it tells a story. You have 5 days to work on these pieces before the concert. I loved the challenge behind it and I felt I became a stronger musician as a result."
